“Invest a few moments in thinking, it will pay good interest” – you probably agree with this statement, because the fact you found our information website, took your time to explore it and even created an account means you are a strong advocate of well-weighted and informed investment decisions.

Of course, you may have a different story, but the point is, whether you’re looking for some quotes of Eurobonds in your portfolio, conducting analysis on a particular issuer, trying to get a few prospectuses or simply want to access a large inventory of market indexes and indicators – in short, as long as financial markets are concerned, you’ve come to the right place.

Established in 2001, Saint-Petersburg, Russia, we’ve become one of the leading financial information vendors, and that means we have resources, skill and knowledge to provide comprehensive coverage of debt markets all over the world. Whenever we maintain our web service, work on an advertising solution or host a national-scale professional conference, we remain attentive and open to our clients and partners.

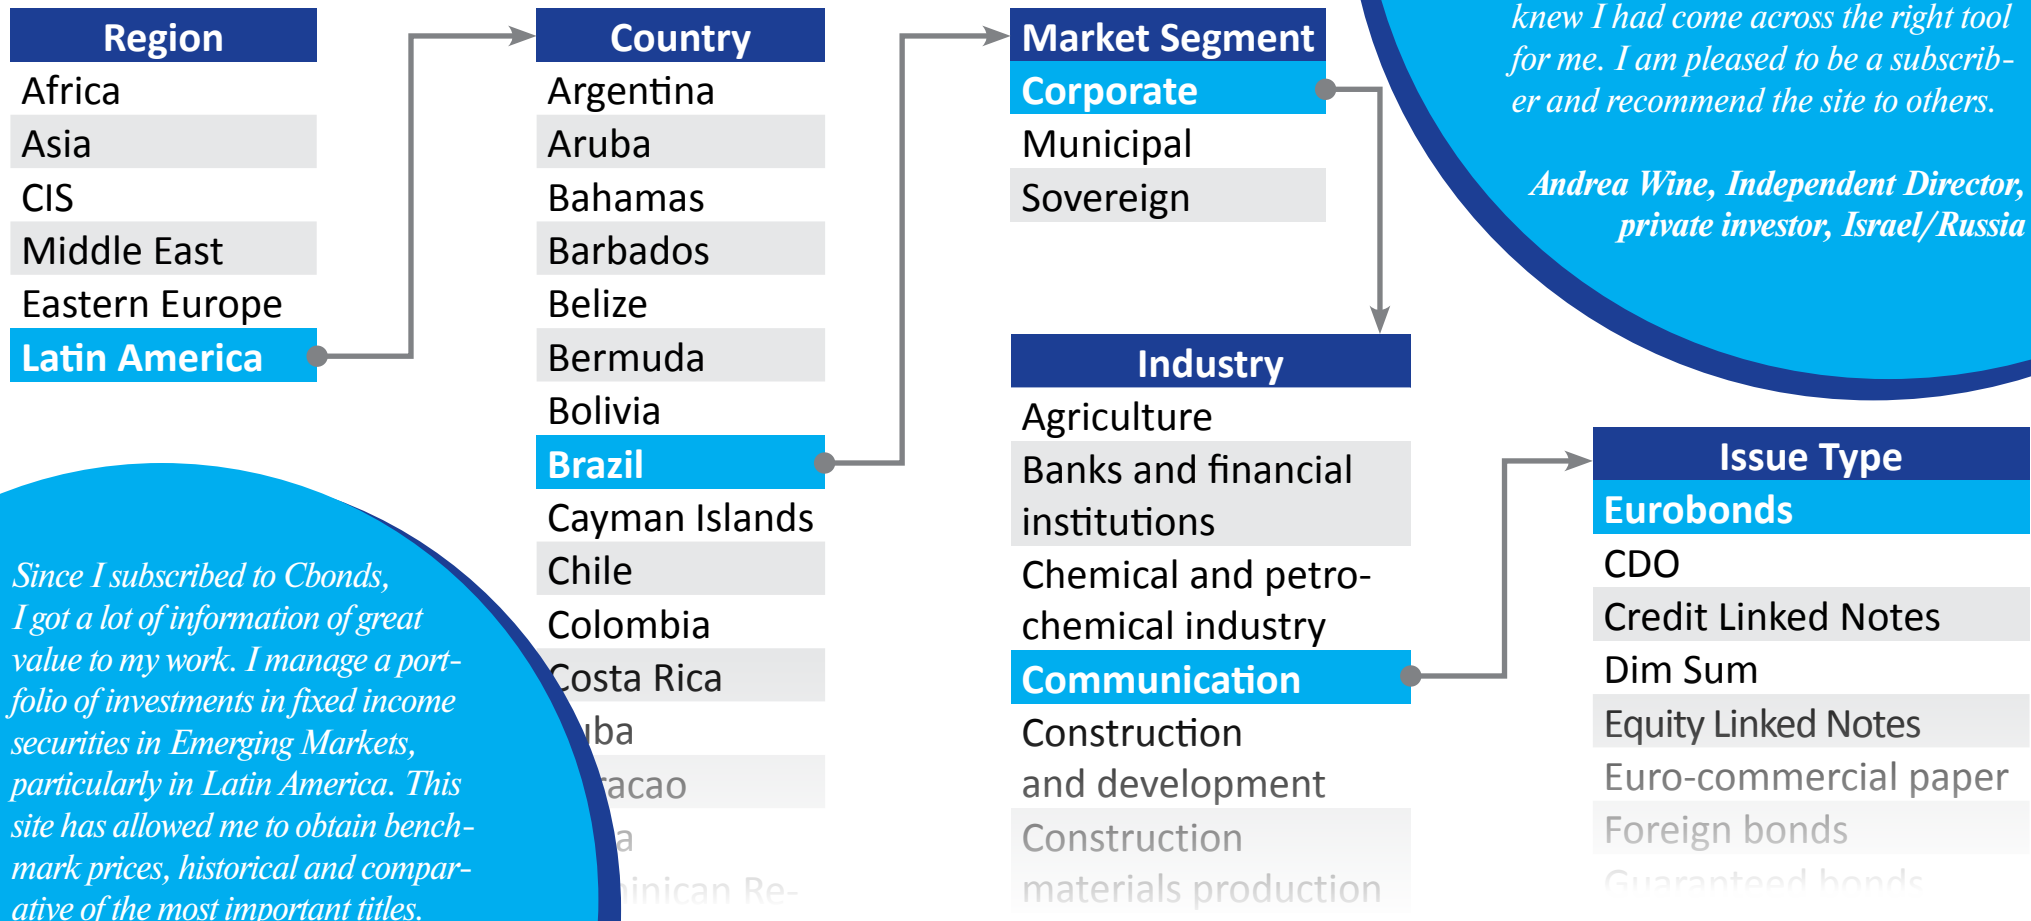

Further in this brochure, you will find out how Cbonds can be of service to you, what the difference is between our guest and our subscriber, what our clients think of us and how you can try the best of our services for free.

Best wishes, Cbonds Team

Cbonds EM covers Eurobonds of Emerging Markets, and this is one of the most lucrative type of investments nowadays. You can search throughout our huge and thoroughly maintained Bond Database, organizing your queries according to region, country, sector, industry, issue type, currency, listing, coupon and other numerous parameters.

I have been investing in Emerging Markets for many years, mainly in fixed income. One of my constant frustrations was the lack of accurate, timely, continually-updated and easily accessible information on new issues and relevant market developments. Few banks, brokers and wealth managers could provide what I needed so when I discovered Cbonds I knew I had come across the right tool for me. I am pleased to be a subscriber and recommend the site to others.

Andrea Wine, Independent Director, private investor, Israel/Russia

Since I subscribed to Cbonds, I got a lot of information of great value to my work. I manage a portfolio of investments in fixed income securities in Emerging Markets, particularly in Latin America. This site has allowed me to obtain benchmark prices, historical and comparative of the most important titles.

Cesar Hulett, private investor, Venezuela

Our Bond Database includes all possible issue parameters and end-of-day quotes both from stock exchanges and OTC. You also can utilize our Calculator and maintain your own selection of issues called “Watchlist”. The information is constantly being updated, prospectuses are added and new sources of daily quotes are examined.

Cbonds EM Eurobonds helps me keep track of investments and quotes in Emerging Markets sovereign and corporate fixed income. It contains a load of information and is a breeze to use.

John, fixed income investing Analyst, Philippines

My role requires me to perform research on securities that our Firm trades to determine the withholding tax / capital gains tax consequences. Prior to our introduction to the Cbonds service, I struggled to locate certain prospectuses internally, without any luck. Additionally, some of the prospectuses were issues in the language of the foreign issuer, not in English. Now, using Cbonds, I am able to locate a majority of the prospectuses from issuers that we had trouble locating previously – and Cbonds provides the prospectuses in English so no translation needed. This has helped to greatly enhance the quality of our tax analysis.

*Michelle, Tax Specialist,
United States*

Apart from Bond and Quotes Search, you can access Indexes, Ratings, Daily Research, Calendar and Market News – altogether offering you comprehensive and self-sufficient informational coverage of Emerging Markets.

Cbonds is an excellent platform covering an exhaustive content of information on CEE and EM bonds making it a must both for traders, market strategists, and research officers with an interest in this segment. The system is quite user friendly and there is clarity of content and exposition. The coverage is ever growing both in scope and back in time making the system a unique information vendor for these difficult to handle, information scarce and relatively illiquid markets.

*Vilimir Yordanov, Research Associate,
Vienna University of Economics and Business, Austria*
